

Megan McDougall

As Manager, Assistance Programs, at Heritage Victoria, Megan currently oversees the grants and assistance programs as well as undertaking selected assessments of later 20th century architecture. Megan studied architecture at University of NSW then completed her degree in Canberra, after working for 5 years in practices in the UK and in Papua New Guinea. Megan was subsequently in private practice and involved with heritage issues in the ACT and SE NSW, and has been a member of ICOMOS since 1992. She has worked at Heritage Victoria since 1989 assessing places for the Victorian Heritage Register, dealing with development proposals, and developing policy.

Australian Institute of Architects

ISC20C

ICOMOS International Scientific Committee on 20th
Century Heritage