The Outback and Beyond Conference will focus on three broad conference themes

- Managing historic towns – general management issues in addition to local, national and world heritage listing of historic towns and associated protective mechanisms.
 - Industrial heritage – the challenges and solutions for managing industrial infrastructure.
 - Remote pastoralism – changing cultural landscapes and the technology of pastoralism; managing of pastoral infrastructure.

Conference dates:

Thursday (evening) 22 April to Sunday 25 April 2010.

The conference coincides with the Australian ANZAC Day, 25 April. ANZAC Day will be commemorated during the Conference Proceedings. Monday 26 April 2010 is a gazetted holiday in all Australian states.

Conference location:

The Conference is located in and around the historic mining city of Broken Hill, a successful example of the transformation of a heritage city, currently pursuing National Heritage Listing.

How is the Conference organised:

The Conference, presented over three days, will focus on three streams. The mornings will start with plenary sessions and concurrent paper presentations will follow. Each afternoon will include a tour focusing on one of the three conference themes, ending with a social event at different locations.

Key-note speakers:

International leaders in their fields will focus upon integrating the three conference themes to provide an over-arching view and to raise issues and visions for the management of historic towns, industrial heritage and pastoral heritage.

General papers:

Papers should stress management aspects of one or more of the three conference themes and solutions (or failures) and be prepared for a maximum 20 minute presentation length. There will be approximately 33 slots for papers, in addition to key-note speakers, and snap-shot sessions on each theme.

Refer to proforma form to be filled in at end of this document

Snap-shot sessions:

These will be a presentation of 5 minute maximum based upon one of the three conference themes and will deal with specific site/s and/or highlight a specific project.

Refer to proforma form to be filled in at end of this document

Conference Proceedings:

Full papers and snap-shots will be included on the conference web site.

A limited selection of conference papers will be eligible for inclusion in a conference edition of Historic Environment, the refereed journal of Australia ICOMOS, and displayed the Australia ICOMOS web site, subject to the Australia ICOMOS Editorial Committee.

REFER TO THE PROFORMA SHEETS ON THE FOLLOWING PAGES WHICH ARE TO BE COMPLETED BY POTENTIAL SPEAKERS, SNAP SHOT AND POSTER PRESENTERS
